Dear Sir or Madam,

Thank you for your inquiry regarding mandatory and currently valid material compliance.

Heidrive GmbH takes the responsibility of material compliance very seriously and it is important to us to ensure the safety of our products and the protection of the environment in the best possible way and in a resource-saving manner.

In order to rule out the possibility that we process substances in our products that are restricted, prohibited or above the limit values and, therefore, subject to authorization, we continuously check our upstream value chain for compliance with mandatory regulations including the current candidate list (available at: <https://echa.europa.eu/de/candidate-list-table>) of the European Chemicals Agency (ECHA):

- REACH (1907/2006/EU), with its SVHC candidate list of substances of very high concern

Against this background, Heidrive GmbH is currently examining its products in order to comply with its obligations under art. 33 of the REACH Regulation and to be able to provide you as a customer with information about them.

At present, we are aware of the following SVHCs from the candidate list with a weight percentage of > 0.1 %:

Material name	CAS number	EG number	Added on	Reason for addition	Assembly/ occurrences
Lead Pb	7439-92-1	231-100-4	27.06.2018	Toxic for reproduction (article 57c)	Complex electronic equipment Metal alloys

Lead-containing sub-components in our products are integrated in motor feedback systems, power controllers, plug connections and thermal monitoring elements or similar electronic components and are not in human contact during normal operation. Lead is used here as an alloy component that is firmly bound in the alloy and does not migrate or diffuse out of it. In these applications, use is made of the exemption in the RoHS Directive (6a. 6b. 6c. or 7c.I) for electrical and electronic equipment, which allows a higher lead concentration for these components and requires to comply with obligations to communicate such information under REACH.

Nevertheless, Heidrive GmbH is examining the use of alternative, less hazardous substances for its products and has already massively reduced their use in new developments.

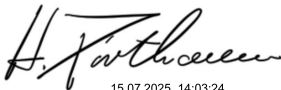

As of today, we are not aware of any substances in our products that are prohibited from being placed on the market or that are subject to the prescribed restrictions, including the substances listed in Annex XIV (substances subject to restrictions) and Annex XVII (substances subject to authorization) of the REACH Regulation.

All information on compliance stated herein is based on the current state of knowledge and the information available to us.

We thank you for your trustworthy cooperation and your understanding in this matter.

Sincerely,

Heidrive GmbH
